KINWARD

Alpha Founding Partner Agreement

This sets out how the Kinward alpha works between Catapult and the organisation named below. A formal contract on these terms will follow before go-live.

What you get

- Kinward free of charge for your pilot communities until the success criteria are met, with no setup fee, now or later.
- We do the setup: we build your new website alongside your current one, load your calendars, menus, apartments and photos, import your family contacts, set up texting and train your staff.
- Support throughout, a monthly scorecard, a feedback call every two weeks and check-ins at day 30, 60 and 90.

What we ask of you

- A named decision-maker, and a staff champion in each pilot community.
- Your content and family contacts, and help taking the baseline measurements (a staff time diary, short resident and family surveys, and a few weeks of attendance counts).
- The switch: once the agreed website checklist is met, you point your domain to Kinward within the agreed number of days. The 90-day alpha starts on that day. If the switch doesn't happen, the alpha ends.
- Honest feedback, and a case study and reference if the results are met.

How it ends

- Results met: a 12-month founding contract starts the following month: Community Life at 30% off, $454 instead of $649 per community per month. Website-only communities pay the normal $349. Your other communities can join on the same terms.
- Results not met at day 90: the alpha extends free in 30-day steps, up to 180 days after go-live. If they're still not met, you choose to continue at the founding price or leave owing nothing. If your own commitments above weren't met, the free extension is at our discretion.
- Leaving: you can stop at any time before your subscription starts, or decline it within 10 business days of the results, and owe nothing. The website we built stays with us; your content does not.

Your data

You own your content and can export it, including family contacts, at any time. You're responsible for consent to message families and to publish photos; we provide the tools. We may use anonymised, combined activity data to improve Kinward, and nothing that identifies a resident, family member or staff member leaves your organisation.
